

Enhancing Relationships in school communities (ERIS)

Creating Culturally Respectful Primary Schools Enhancing Relationships through Strategic Professional Learning

These books, available at Peoplemaking, are suggested resources for use with the ERIS project. We have other books and resources that are supportive of this project, many of which are on the website - peoplemaking.com.au

Colors of Us
Karen Katz

Seven-year old Lena is going to paint a picture of herself. She wants to use brown paint for her skin, and learns that brown comes in many different shades. Through the eyes of a little girl who begins to see her world in a new way, this book celebrates the differences and similarities that connect all people. Uses positive language to discuss the limitless variety of tones of the color brown.

Skin Again
Bell Hooks and Chris Raschka

This visionary work offers new ways to talk about race and identity, and reveals that race matters, but only so much - it is what can be found beyond the skin that's the most important treasure. This book conveys a strong message that you cannot know who someone is simply by looking at them.

All The Colors We Are: The Story of How We Get Our Skin Color
Katie Kissinger & Wernher Krutein

Magnificent color photos and simple, engaging language capture the essence of one way people are special and different from one another - skin color. This book answers the "what and why" questions that children love to ask and includes unique activity ideas.

All the Colors of the Earth
Sheila Hamanaka

Celebrate the colors of children and the colors of love - not black, or white, or red, but roaring brown, whispering gold, tinkling pink, and more. Images of multiracial children and interracial couples shown.
